“Strawberry, vanilla and chocolate chip, too! Satin Slipper Sweet Shoppe has sweet treats for you!” chanted Scoops happily as she got ready for opening day at the Satin Slipper Sweet Shoppe. She knew her pony friends always enjoyed her delicious ice cream desserts. But when she opened the door to the shop, no ponies were in sight! “They don’t know the shop is open!” thought Scoops. Quickly, she flew high above the Satin Slipper Sweet Shoppe. She wove a ray of sunshine into the shape of an ice cream cone and rolled a fluffy, white cloud on top of the shining cone. As a final touch, she sprinkled rainbow dew on the cloud to make it sparkle like colorful candy sprinkles. The ponies saw the gigantic ice cream cone floating in the sky and eagerly followed it to the Satin Slipper Sweet Shoppe. “Roseberry ice cream with rainbow sprinkles, please!” cried North Star to Scoops. “A hot fudge sundae with strawberry ice cream for me, please,” said Slugger. Kicking her heels with delight, Scoops created the delectable desserts and happily served them to the excited ponies. “Hooray for Scoops and the Satin Slipper Sweet Shoppe!” cried the ponies as they nibbled their sweet treats. They couldn’t wait to see what tomorrow’s ice cream special-of-the-day would be!
